

Privacy Statement

This Privacy Statement sets out the ways in which information collected by Digivox, LLC ("Digivox") is used and disclosed.

At Digivox, your privacy is important to us and this Privacy Statement applies to all information collected by or submitted to Digivox, whether on our website or by fax, e-mail, phone or otherwise, including personal information. "Personal information" is information that reasonably can be used to identify an individual.

Digivox collects personal information when you make purchases, request support or information on Digivox services; when you participate in promotions, surveys or evaluations; or when you submit questions or comments to us.

This information may include your first and last name; company name; billing or other address; e-mail address; telephone number; username and password; and your credit card account information.

Digivox may use this personal information to create and maintain your accounts; process and fulfill your orders; register your services; answer your questions; and send you information.

Digivox may disclose your personal information to third parties as may be required to fulfill orders, to conduct billing/credit card processing, to provide service, and for e-mail housing; as required by law (such as responding to a valid subpoena, warrant, audit, or agency action, or to prevent fraud); and in the context of a business transaction, such as a merger, acquisition, consolidation, or divestiture (pursuant to a pledge of confidentiality under which the recipient agrees to use the information for no purpose other than carrying out the transaction).

Digivox makes every effort to provide you with the ability to opt-in and out of receiving communications from Digivox and/or its partners. We may send you e-mails about your account, about the services you have purchased, to remind you about services that are available, or in response to your questions unless you indicate that you do not want to receive them. In addition, our business partners may send you such information.

Digivox gives you the ability to access, modify or update your information at any time by contacting us via email at support@digivox.net

Digivox reserves the right to change this policy from time to time. If we do make changes, the revised Privacy Statement will be posted on this site.
